Dear Ms. Kimberly Samuels:

It is an esteemed honor to take this opportunity to recognize Ms. Kimberly Samuels for her outstanding leadership and dedication to the field of oncology care. As the CEO of the National Consortium of Breast Centers (NCBC), her vision and relentless commitment have had a profound impact on both the healthcare community and the lives of cancer patients nationwide.

Ms. Samuels' initiative in establishing National Oncology Navigator Day is a powerful example of her dedication to honoring those who often work behind the scenes—oncology navigators. Through her efforts, these vital professionals are finally receiving the recognition they deserve for the crucial role they play in guiding patients through the complexities of cancer care. Her leadership has not only brought attention to the emotional, psychological, and logistical support oncology navigators provide but has also ensured that their work is seen and celebrated by a broader audience.

The difference Ms. Samuels has made through her advocacy and tireless work is undeniable, and her passion and determination continue to inspire many within the healthcare community. Her commitment to enhancing patient care, particularly through the support of oncology navigators, has created lasting change.

Her efforts are truly valued, and the positive impact she is driving in oncology care will have lasting effects on both the professionals she uplifts and the patients they serve. Should you ever need any support or assistance, please do not hesitate to reach out.

Sincerely,

Jasmine Crockett
Member of Congress
